Lori,
 To a very nice girl I've got the pleasure of knowing better this year. Remember all the fun we had in yard
 especially down Pete's Place,
 in how about up at West peckung with all those ice water bottles. Never forget all those fun gym classes when we never did our exercises. Well good luck in all you do and especially with that special someone. Oh how could I have forgotten
 your favourite class Business.
 See ya out the pool.

Lori,

To a nice person that I knew since kindergarten. I got to know you better this year because of our Tues.
5th pd. S.H. with all them boys. I'm glad you put up with me complaining to you about some people. Remember that one time in that S.H. when we got hollered at for laughing about my cousin falling. Well I'll be having more classes with you next year
since we are both in Business.
Good Luck!

Once there was a place . . . a small enchanted place . . . and for just a short while, time stood still. The kingdom stood quietly above the bank of a meandering river known as the Kiskiminetas. And the castle of dusty yellow and grey stone stood in the middle of a hill in the midst of the town. The castle was called Leechburg Area High School and was governed by a strong ruler known as Sir William of Carroll, who came from a long line of Celtic and Roman leaders. In the year of nineteen hundred and eighty-three, for just a short time his kingdom of 584 was populated by fair maidens, fierce warriors, enchanted musicians, talented craftsmen, and a handful of jesters. Their time in the kingdom was short, but unlike the mythical Camelot, these subjects really lived and their time in the kingdom of Leechburg Area High School is chronicled here by scribes in the only extant book of their tenure, known as the Minetas . . . Welcome to our world of 1983.

King William, though a capable, progressive monarch, cannot rule this kingdom alone. He relies on the advice and wisdom of his Council of Elders. These men and women help to administer the kingdom, regulate the guilds, and keep the serfs in line. They are responsive to the needs of all the subjects of the realm who scarcely could function without them. Today is your lucky day. The Council has gathered and is in session. All the mathematicians, scribes, alchemists, philosophers, and elder nobles in the kingdom are in the Council Chamber, as well as King William Carroll himself. If you are very quiet, you may enter and observe the proceedings.

Where Do I Find Thee?
Mr. Carroll: hunting and fishing, puffing on a stogie, announcing the latest rules and regulations, and if all else fails, back in his office.
Mr. Nigro: diligently working in the elementary building.
Mrs. DelVecchio: typing the absence list, sorting mail, assigning errands to her helpers, and counseling the latest problem with a student.

Where Canst Thou Find Thy Elders?

The Penn Grill . . . outside the gym stairs . . . watching films in the planetarium . . . cruising the streets of Leechburg . . . hunting deer on Pershing Avenue . . . running the Great Race . . . shooting hoops . . . drinking coffee . . . conjuring up spirits . . . golfing . . . a certain cracker shop . . . Library Congress . . . flirting with Mrs. Harter . . . cooking the latest recipe . . . catching an unlucky skipper . . . speaking in tongues . . . persay, at a certain situation . . . travelling the globes of the world . . . discovering Barbarians . . . monitoring the cafeteria . . . eating green M & M's . . . pounding on the piano . . . saying, "Zero, zero, zero." . . . putting on a theatre production . . . dissecting baby pigs . . . showing yet ANOTHER film . . . and most important of all, helping LAHS students to learn.

Making your way through Castle Leechburg, you will encounter all sorts of people. The Ruling Class should be of interest to you, and you might find them doing just about anything. But be sure you give them the respect they deserve, afterall, they are the class in power. Most of them are good natured and decent folk, but naturally a few are corrupt. King William has knighted the most courageous of them, and they defend the realm against attacks from barbaric neighboring tribes. They stand firm, protecting the fair maidens of Castle Leechburg.

A Visitor Arrives At Our Castle

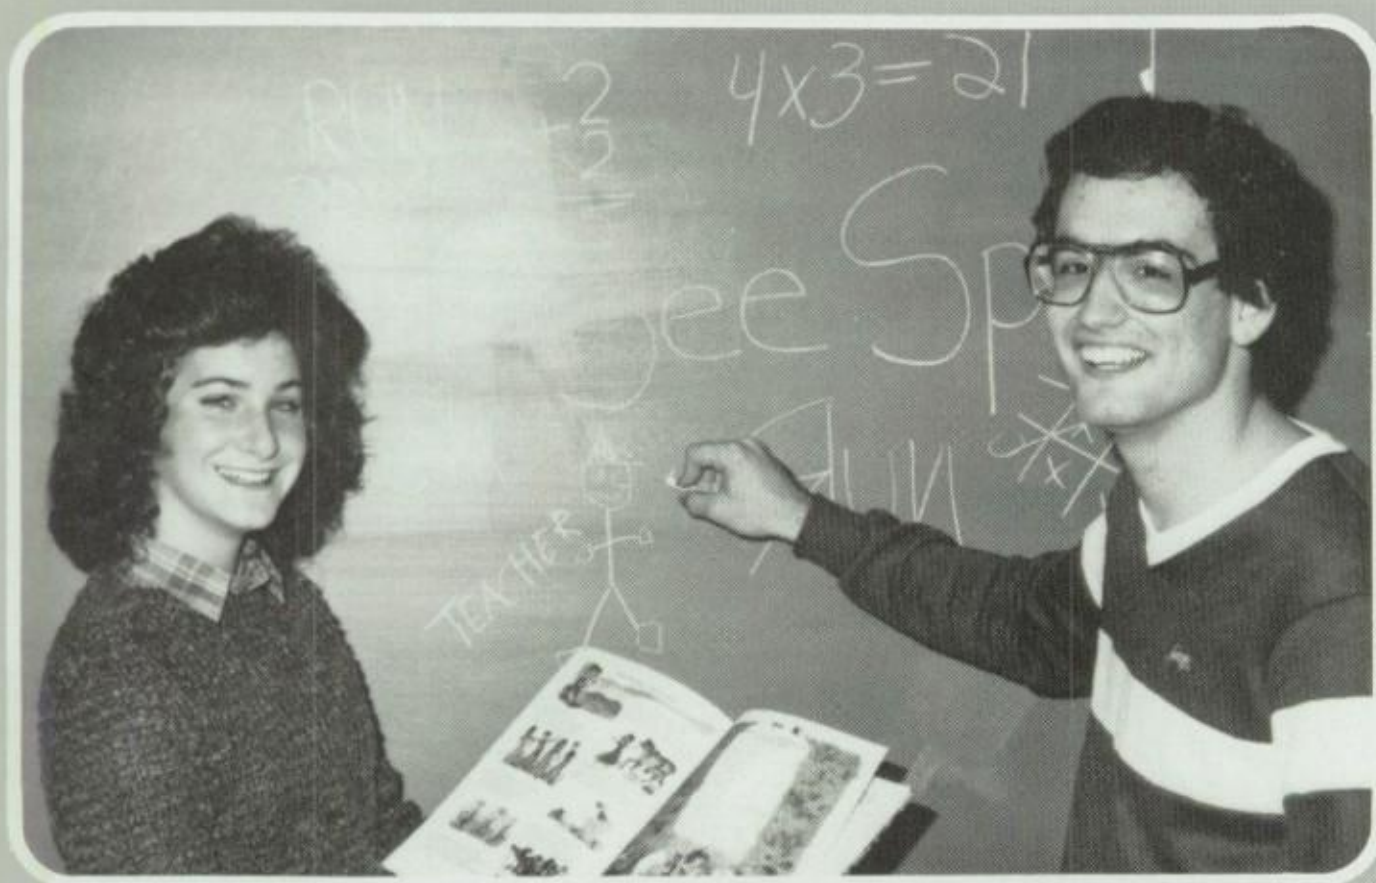

In the year nineteen hundred and eighty-three, the kingdom of Leechburg was honoured with the presence of a Swedish lad. This young man, the respectable Matts Pettersson, decided to partake on an adventure to the United States in the merry month of August. The Mark Millers of Gilpin Township, a noble and grand family, were kind enough to house this wandering knight. In Sweden, Matts attended the Tessin High School in the small town of Bjornlunda, where he lives. With warm and welcome hospitality, the scholars at LAHS wish Matts an enjoyable stay in our country.

To a real nice girl I met in Leechburg
82-83, Remember all the great(?) times in our 3:0 period History class, and our DC trip. I'll miss you. but who knows
I might see you again some day.
your friend

Matts, "83"

Enough has been said of the Ruling Class. Yes, they are important, but the real strength of the monarchy lies in the loyal lower classes. Under the Ruling Class are various collections of people. They are weavers and dyers, jesters, and stone masons, and a few can put away more than their share of ale. But all, no matter what their trade or occupation, are the subjects of the realm of His Majesty, King William Carroll.

The people of Castle Leechburg are not idle by any measure. They may be the busiest people you will ever see. Many do more than simply work at a normal occupation. Bards and minstrels entertain the King. Scholars and scribes of the Kingdom work through their guilds to spread learning and knowledge to all the realm's subjects. Even the pages that serve the Ruling Class have organized themselves.

1982 BLUE DEVIL MARCHING BAND

Field Commander: Ann Vogel

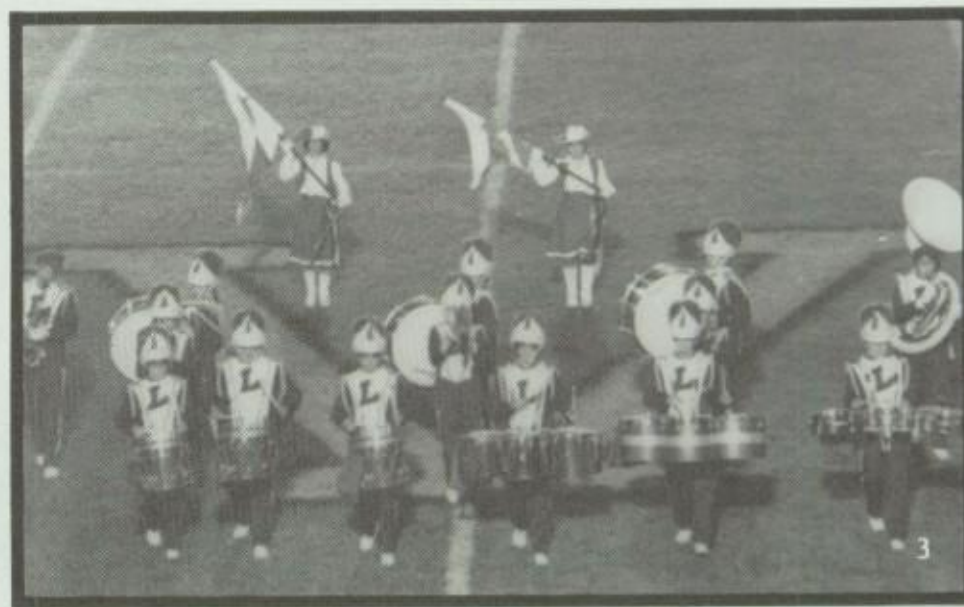

This year, the Leechburg Blue Devil Marching Band was faced with many new and exciting challenges. Under the direction of Mr. Scott Koter, and with the help of many specialized drum, colorguard, and drill instructors, the band proudly entered their first year of competition. Rehearsals began in June and continued through the summer including an annual two-week band camp held in August. Band members certainly deserve the fine reputation they've built by placing second in the Edinboro State competition. The band also entertained several festival audiences with their captivating performances at the Alle-Kiski, Hempfield, and East Allegheny band festivals. Without the aid and assistance of the Band Boosters and parent chaperones, these rewarding trips would not have been possible. Many thanks to them for their help. It was a year well worth remembering and one that surely continued the tradition of fine bands from Leechburg.

As usual, the majorette squad this year exhibited the quality and style common to Leechburg majorette lines for years. Under the fine leadership of Dana Smail, and with the assistance of Carol Kean, an instructor, the majorettes twirled and danced through many well-performed half-time shows. One crowd-pleaser in particular was their feature presentation to "Fame". The majorettes also incorporated the use of wooden stars in their routine for a special effect in "Another Star."

1. Dana Smail, head majorette. 2. Flash flags for a special effect. 3. Great catch, Shelley! 4. Lisa, Nancy, and Shelley keep to the beat.

1. Heads Karen Riggle and Kathy Tygielski. 2. The silks during a parade. 3. Lori and Karen march on. 4. Cindy and Debbie smile.

This marching band season has proved to be a memorable and exciting one for the silk line. With the student leadership of Kathy Tygielski, Karen Riggle, and Lisa Leezer, the silk line managed a well-performed show every time they took the field. They were aided with the guidance of Michele Stanko and Bruno Zuccula.

PEP BAND. LEFT-TO-RIGHT, 1st ROW: T. Lucchino, B. Rua, R. Blake, K. Mahr. 2nd ROW: A. Vogel, L. Boario, S. Shick, T. Oberdorf, N. Vogel, J. Sober. 3rd ROW: J. Szalanski, K. Gibbon, V. Garmong, L. Biagioni, V. Ashbaugh, C. Lorenz, A. Vogel. 4th ROW: T. Bosin, M. McConville, R. Kneppshield, S. Nebiolo. 5th ROW: E. Nebiolo, R. Stitt, G. Clowes, D. Shick, G. Myers, M. Girardi, T. Grantz, J. Camp.

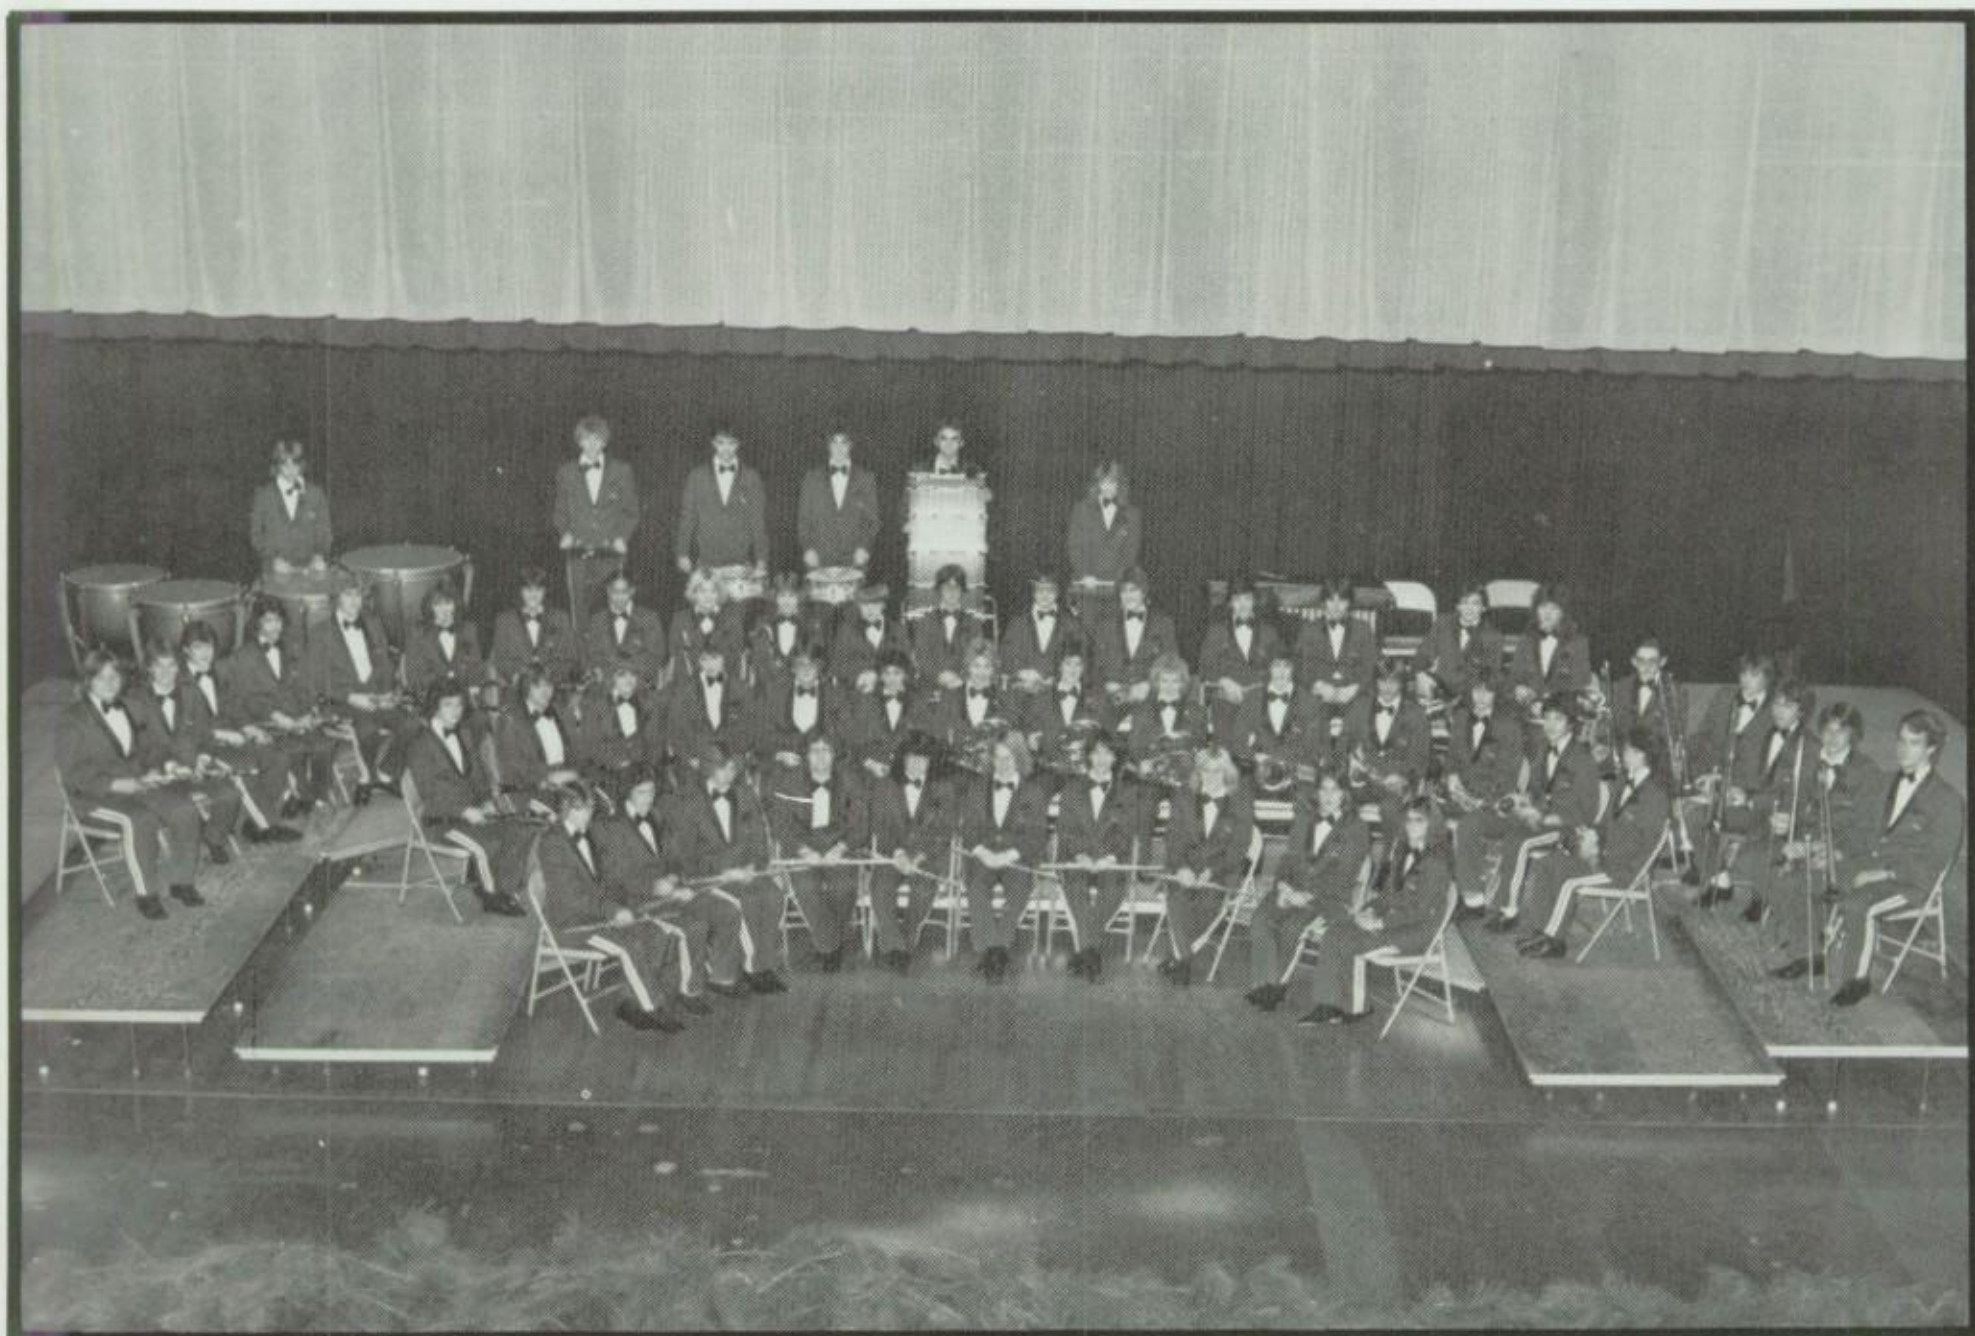

1. Another wild assembly. 2. What's so funny? 3. Chris and Jeff cheer for the Devils.

As a vital part of all pep assemblies, the pep band provided musical background and extra spirit to the cheers and skits conducted by the cheerleaders. Time was spent learning and memorizing new fight songs and improving the harmony of old ones. Being a member of the Pep Band gives students an exciting opportunity to perform on stage and demonstrate their support for the team.

CONCERT BAND. LEFT-TO-RIGHT, 1st ROW: E. Johnson, V. Garmong, D. Hoover, J. Mago, E. Carroll, K. Olshansky, K. Riggle, D. Smail, M. Miller, L. Biagioni. 2nd ROW: A. Vogel, R. Kneppshield, G. Klanica, T. Bosin, K. Gibbon, M. Bonello, L. Boario, A. Vogel, T. Oberdorf, J. Pecus, R. Trefelner, L. Soloman, S. Nebiolo, N. Vogel. 3rd ROW: M. McConville, A. Todd, B. Shaffer, V. Ashbaugh, A. Pecus, C. Contino, B. Stegner, M. Hutcherson, A. Ruzbacki, J. Lamendola, J. Camp, S. Phillips, D. Shick, G. Clowes, E. Nebiolo, R. Stitt, C. Oberdorf, S. Shick, D. Grantz, J. Camp, B. Wyrick, J. Sober, T. Grantz. 4th ROW: M. Smail, J. Kasanicky, M. Kaszubski, B. Rua, C. Doyle, K. Mahr.

Under the direction of Scott Koter, the Concert Band is continually striving to achieve a higher quality sound. Concentrating on balanced instrumentation and tone quality, the band has spent many fifth period classes practicing scales, articulation exercises, and dynamic control. Mr. Koter has provided the band with several varieties of music, many taken from different periods of history. Each year the band performs a Christmas Concert, an "I'm Sick of Winter Concert," and a Spring Concert. Due to the size of the band, many students are asked to switch instruments in order to have a balanced sound. With the constant determination and dedication of band members, the concert band steadily is improving.

STAGE BAND, LEFT-TO-RIGHT, 1st ROW: C. Oberdorf, E. Nebiolo, R. Blake, G. Clowes. 2nd ROW: N. Vogel, K. Gibbon, G. Klanica, T. Bosin, R. Kneppshield. 3rd ROW: T. Oberdorf, S. Shick, J. Camp, C. Doyle, J. Kasanicky. 4th ROW: B. Wyrick, M. Girardi, S. Nebiolo, S. Phillips, D. Shick.

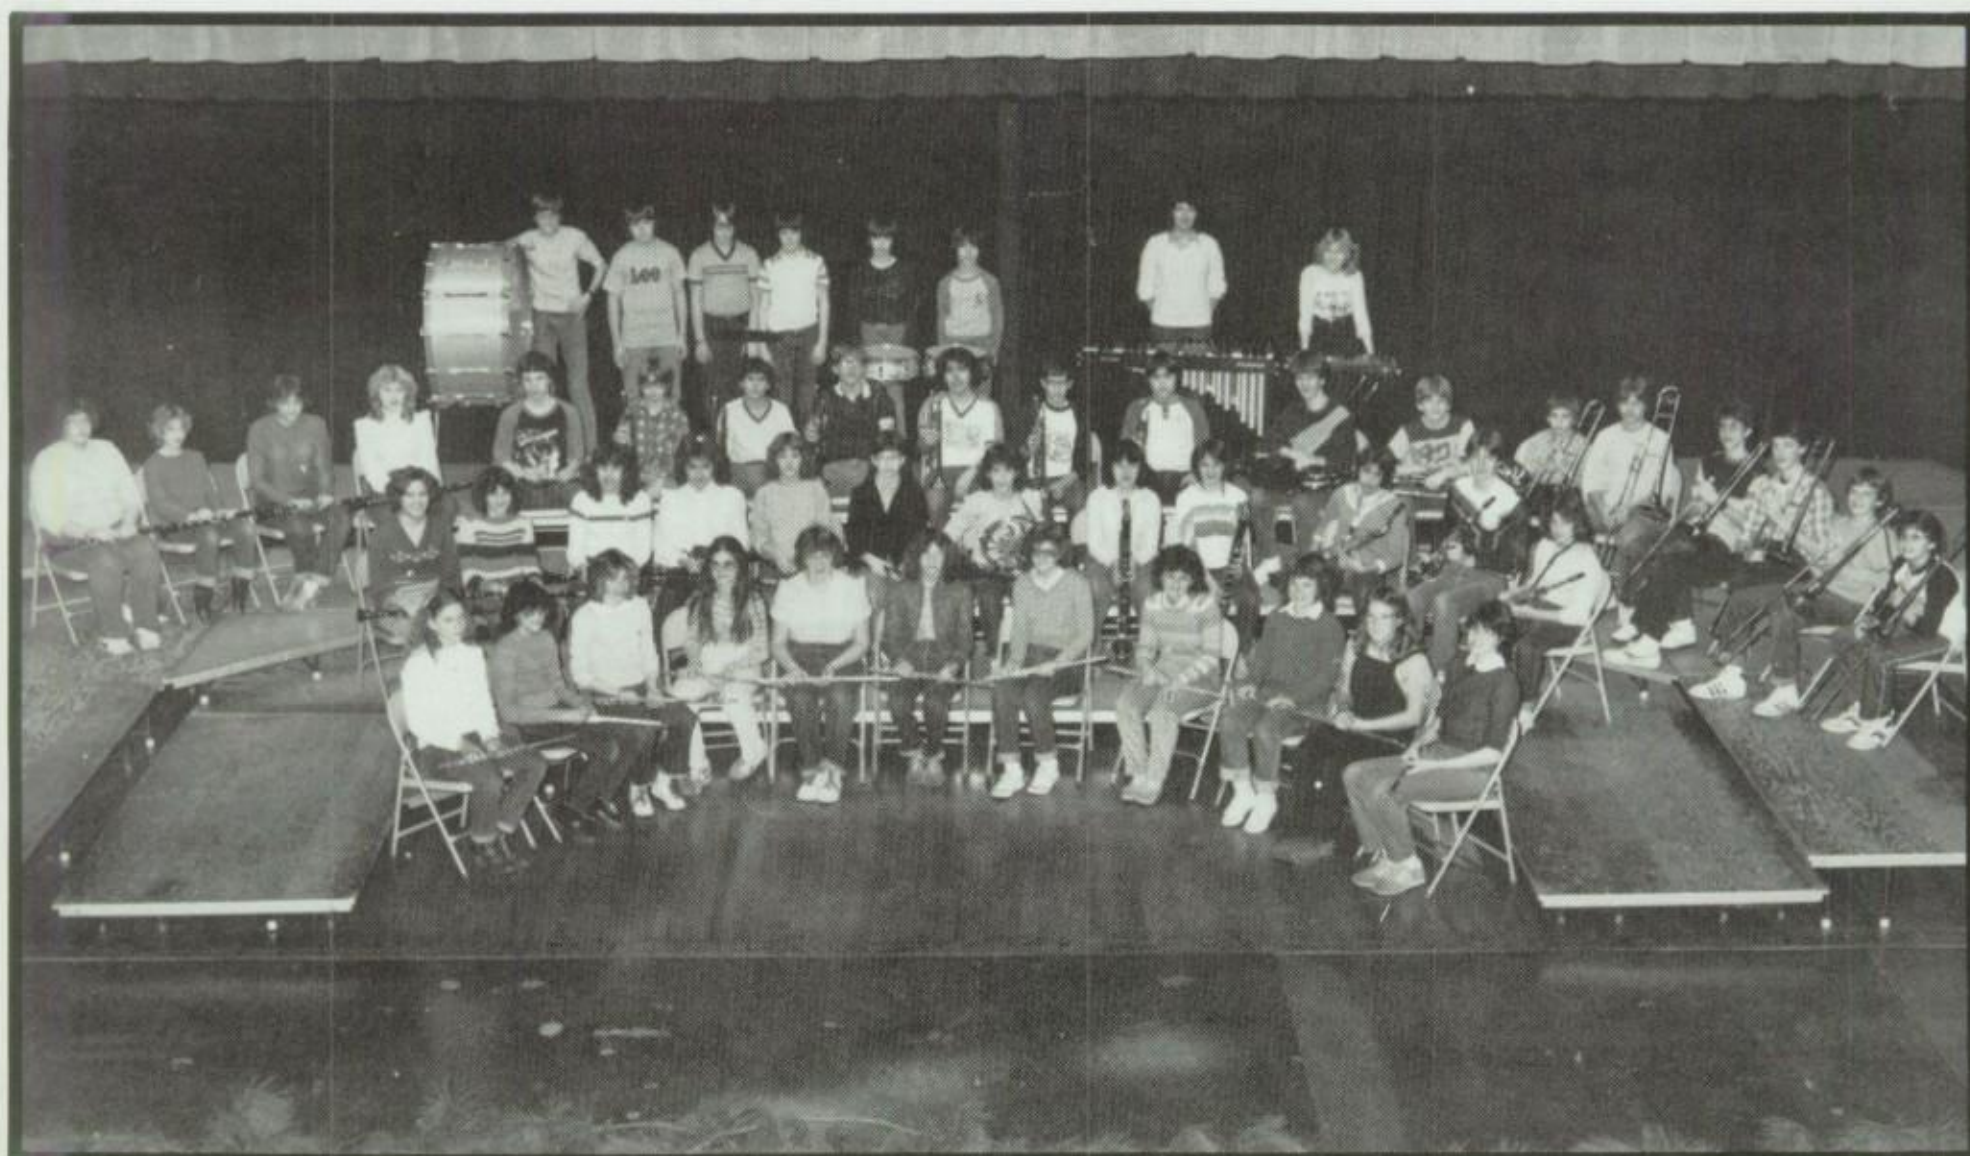

The Leechburg Stage Band has grown and prospered under the direction of Scott Koter. The musicians are dedicated to their own talents and work hard to learn how to do improvisation and jazz techniques. They hope to attend the Alle-Kiski Stage Band Festival, Westminster College, Allegheny-Clarion Valley, and Clarion College Stage Band Festivals. They hope to add more festivals and competitions to their schedule this year. Mr. Koter hopes to host the Alle-Kiski Festival and his own competition.

1. The dedicated rhythm section. 2. Mr. Koter explains jazz techniques.

JR. BAND, LEFT-TO-RIGHT, 1st ROW: C. Smith, A. Lantelme, L. Kulick, T. Reinke, A. Nawrocki, D. Hunter, R. Sober, C. Hollis, C. Riggle, C. Haigh, B. Gerheim. 2nd ROW: T. Ross, L. Defilippi, C. McGee, H. Cibik, J. Boudreaux, A. Gerheim, L. Kulick, L. Cibik, S. Townsend, R. Ashbaugh, P. Weaver, V. Peyronel. 3rd ROW: T. Lockhart, M. Vogel, N. Decroo, D. Johnson, S. Hughes, R. Krafick, J. Stegner, M. Miller, M. Defilippi, C. Skrot, W. Vigna, B. Kereszturi, J. Mangus, G. McCollough, E. Tola, R. Shearer, D. Eagleson, K. Oberdorf, M. Lucchino. 4th ROW: C. Sturgill, B. Camp, J. Endlish, R. McIntyre, F. Roofner, M. Myers, B. McGee, L. Kostelansky.

Lori Defilippi, Tammy Ross, Mark Miller, Michael Lucchino, and Brad Kereszturi are ready for the Christmas Concert.

The Junior Band is composed of interested musicians in the seventh and eighth grades who are preparing themselves for a future in senior high band. They rehearse three times a week and perform two concerts a year. Although being in Junior Band requires plenty of practicing and dedication, most members will agree it's also enjoyable and a good learning experience.

SHOW CHOIR

This year, Mrs. Nebiolo combined all of the individual senior high ensembles into one major Show Choir. This energetic group of tenth, eleventh, and twelfth graders put on concerts in which they not only sing but dance in harmony with the songs. They were featured in the Christmas concert, performed for various church organizations, and will hold a special concert in the spring.

The Jr. High Ensemble is composed of seventh, eighth, and ninth graders who were selected as members due to their vocal and musical abilities. They perform with the Jr. High Chorus during concerts and usually sing several separate selections in addition to the regular program. Being a member of the Jr. High Ensemble gives students valuable experience in preparing for their futures in music.

The 1982-83 Varsity Cheerleaders accomplished a superb year of promoting school spirit. They put on enjoyable and entertaining pep rallies each week of football season. "The Family Fued," Homecoming, and "Name That Devil" are a few of the hilarious and well-performed skits that kept the audience in an uproar. From hot summer practices to the last basketball game, the cheerleaders worked very hard and did an excellent job!

CLOCKWISE: 1. We're number one! 2. Underneath those glamorous smiles are true devil fans. 3. Co-head cheerleaders: C. Contino, S. Meyer, and P. Breski.

J.V. AND J.R. HIGH CHEERLEADERS

The J.V. Cheerleaders did a fine job cheering for the J.V. football and basketball teams. Under the leadership of Kathleen Hauser and Kim Bartel, the squad really did its share. Cheering at pep rallies and assisting the Varsity Cheerleaders at the "big games" were a few of their accomplishments. Over all, the J.V. Cheerleaders finished a great season.

The enthusiastic girls on the Jr. High cheerleading squad are responsible for supporting and boosting the spirit of the 7th and 8th grade and Jr. High football teams. Besides attending football games, they also participated in many of the pep rallies. Under the leadership of Marci Bonello and Amy Tafi, the girls cheered their way through another exciting season.

The Student Council is an elected group of students chosen to represent the entire student body. Each month they hold a meeting to discuss important matters pertaining to the welfare and general concern of the students. They are organized under the helpful direction of Mr. Dolmayer. This year the Student Council sponsored a Valentine's Day cookie sale, they provided movies and entertainment for the student body, and they also will sponsor the annual blood bank drive. Many members contribute some of their free time to work in the school store in the cafeteria. Members of this year's Student Council should be commended for their leadership and representation.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

CO-OP PROGRAM

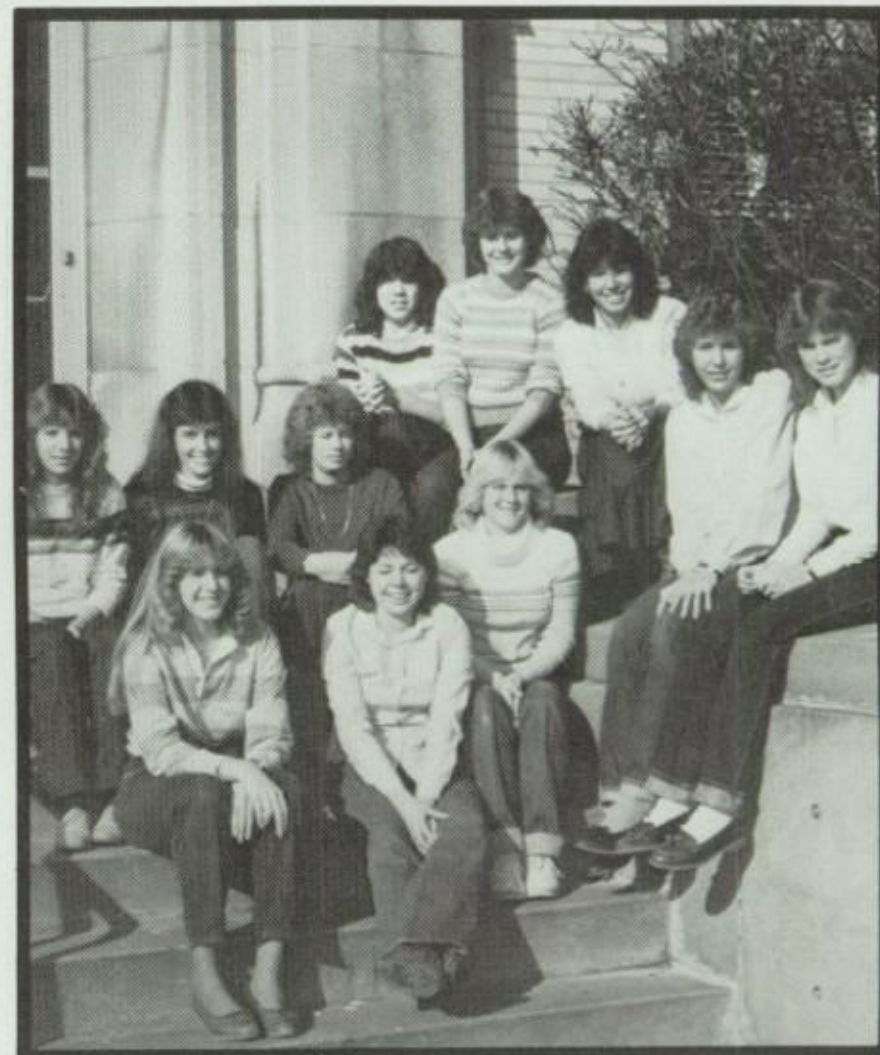

Students belonging to the National Honor Society represent the qualities of leadership, scholarship, character, and service. They are a select group of students who maintain a high grade point average and exhibit leadership characteristics. An induction is held every spring to swear in new members, and an educational field trip is taken. Mr. Defilippi helps to coordinate the meetings and organize the special events held in honor of these fine students.

The CO-OP Program is a special organization instituted for the benefit of business students. This work-study program gives these girls on-the-job training and experience in the business field. Mrs. Zargo, the sponsor, designates specific students to work for area businesses and industries which participate in the program. Near the end of their senior year, the girls attend half of a school day, and the remaining half is spent gaining first-hand experience in the job market.

MINETAS

The task of creating an appealing as well as an informative yearbook definitely requires much dedication and ambition from those on the staff, and this year the Minetas staff was no exception. With the guidance of Mrs. Daugherty, the adviser, and the helpful advice of Ann Vogel and Chris Csonka, the editors, an exciting issue of the yearbook was produced. Early in the year, the staff set a goal to lower the high cost of the yearbook by eliminating all color, publishing ads, and by decreasing the size and number of pages. The theme for this year's book is "Camelot" and all sections of the book are centered and incorporated around this theme. Many long hours were spent agonizing over layouts, hounding photographers, cropping pictures, and thinking of catchy captions. But somehow we survived, and in the end every member has benefitted greatly from this memorable and unique experience.

The Trotty Veck staff is composed of ninth through twelfth graders who are interested in contributing their writing talents towards a monthly publication of the school newspaper. Regular meetings of the editors were held to suggest article assignments and new steps were taken to generate more student interest in the newspaper. Who could forget the lively commercials broadcast over the morning announcements? The business staff types all the articles and is responsible for distributing the paper. Most students will agree the Trotty Veck staff provides a valuable newspaper worth treasuring for the future as well as something entertaining to read during studyhalls.

Pettersson, J. Thomas, J. Armagost, J. Szalanski, S. Rupert, S. Troutman, J. Sluka.

The Drama Club is a group of senior high students who possess acting talents and enough courage to perform individually on stage. At the beginning of each year, a candy sale is held to raise money for the purchase of scripts. Then try-outs are held and the grueling weeks of practices begin. But the applause and satisfaction of a well-executed performance is well-worth the effort. This year the play is "Jabberwock." Hopefully it will be as exciting and memorable as those in the past, including last year's "Get Smart." Mr. Mark Nigro is the dedicated and devoted sponsor who should get credit for many successful plays.

LEFT-TO-RIGHT. 1. Joel, Scott and Jeff are ready for the cast party after another outstanding performance. 2. "Now, let's see . . . circuit B deflects the coils . . . or is it circuit C?" 3. Joel describes the infallible Maxwell Smart, secret agent for CONTROL. 4. Mr. Big (Mark Lamendola) and Garth (Bill Rua) listen as three girl hostages are "tortured" in the background. 5. Professor Dante (Mickey Morandini) is blindfolded by Garth (Bill Rua) as he is captured by KAOS and taken to the Fortune Cookie Club. OPPOSITE PAGE. "But all I wanted was some Paradise Chicken," Mickey explains to his captors.

COURTESY CLUB

LEADERS CLUB

Much of the organization and efficiency of the high school office should be attributed to the hard-working students in the Courtesy Club. Some of the numerous duties of this group include: delivering absentee lists, sorting and delivering the mail, answering the phone, and running downtown.

COURTESY CLUB. LEFT-TO-RIGHT, 1st ROW: W. Christy, S. Gray, D. Riggle, L. Bonello, D. Daugherty, J. Sluka, S. Myers, S. Klingensmith, M. Hutcherson. 2nd ROW: J. Nelson, N. Svorcek, S. Pecus, V. Girls in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades are eligible to belong to the Leaders Club. These girls help Mrs. Vigo by instructing the students in gym classes in such sports as basketball, volleyball and gymnastics. They also lead the calisthenics and exercises at the beginning of each class. The advice and assistance they provide is a valuable addition to gym classes.

YOUTH GROUP FOR THE HANDICAPPED

The Leechburg Youth Group for the Handicapped is a unique organization established for the benefit of handicapped children of our community. Concerned students who are interested in assisting the less fortunate children in our school volunteer their services by helping to instruct the special education students, by holding fund raisers to provide money for needy families of the community, and by participating in special events.

The Russian Club consists of students in grades eight through twelve who have an interest in this difficult language. Each year under the guidance of Miss Hritz, the Junior and Senior Russian Clubs hold bake sales. With the money from these successful bake sales, the students go on a field trip to Pittsburgh.

STAGE CREW

The Stage Crew is a group of hardy young men who willingly volunteer their time to set up the stage for all pep rallies and many other assemblies. There are two stage crews, A and B, which take turns doing duties such as setting up chairs, risers, and projectors. These guys also have an uncanny ability to extend the length of time necessary for stage set-up!

The courteous and friendly students on the Ushers Club are responsible for directing fans to their seats during football games and also during concerts and evening programs in the high school. They sell tickets and help in the general preparation for specific presentations. Although most people don't realize the amount of work involved in the duties of an usher, these people should be credited for their accomplishments.

When the great Knights of Leechburg march off to defend the honor of their ladies and the great name of Castle Leechburg in Tournament, they do so with pride.
It is no simple task. These valiant defenders must do battle with challengers who may harbor some obvious advantage. Yet, our vigilant champions nearly always manage to triumph over their adversaries. Yea, though they may lose battles along the way, in the end it seems they win the war,
snatching victory from the clutches of defeat. So great their strength and so fierce their fighting spirit that it has been said these defenders fight like Devils.

HOMECOMING

"I will always cherish the closeness I had with my classmates in school throughout future years. Leechburg, being such a small school, enabled me to share and to help others out when they needed a hand. Learning to help others, and enjoying it, has helped me to decide what my future will hold, helping others!"
... Lori Bonello

"After graduation, all my classmates will go their own way, taking with them memories and friendships they will have forever. All of us will be striving for a life which will make us happy. But, even though we will live apart doing different things, we will still be joined since the first few years of our lives were shared together at Leechburg" ... Paula Breski

"A person who can show me glistening eyes in life's tough and tender moments is a person who can instantly win my affection. There are times when people just have to forget themselves for awhile and let their emotions flow. I'm one of those people" ... Gretchen Lunz

Homecoming is a very special time of year. It holds fond memories for many people to reflect upon. New memories are also created each year at homecoming. This is especially true for the girls that are chosen for the homecoming court. These girls possess qualities which are looked up to and admired. They enjoy close friendships and find happiness in being themselves. They represent their school and their activities with pride. From this court, one girl is voted as outstanding. She is chosen to wear the crown and to hold the title of queen.

"One of the things I want most in life is to succeed. I don't only mean success in making money, but happiness in life and being at peace with myself. I admire people who are successful and who share their success with others. I realize I will run into many obstacles along the way. I just hope I am ambitious enough not to give up, and not too worn out to enjoy my victory" .
... Linda Fasano

"It is within myself that I have found the most happiness. I enjoy being Suzanne and I enjoy the thoughts, feelings and emotions that are a part of me. Sometimes I can be very complicated and difficult to figure out, but that is me. I am very content being me and it is the one thing that I do just perfectly. I do not wish to be anyone or anything else. I am happy being just what I am—me"
 . . . Suzanne Meyer

82

"Being a senior, I am continually looking back upon my memories of high school. The more I remember, the more I compare high school to a drama play with the students as actors and actresses . . . At the completion of the play, the cast join hands and acknowledge the audience's applause. The actors are like a family, just as students in high school form a special union of friendship" . . . Ann Vogel

"I have had many special moments my senior year at Leechburg. Homecoming has been a very major one. I will never forget it nor the fun times at LAHS" . . .
 Janie Nelson

"I will always look back on the times at Leechburg as special memories. My very close friends and classmates were the reasons for those fantastic times. My activities were a very important part of my high school years, but majorettes will always remain the highlight of them" . . . Krissy Tallarom

Remember—how excited we were when we found out we were on the court, buying new outfits, writing our speeches, rehearsing on stage, practicing at the field, hoping we wouldn't mess up our speeches, getting our pictures taken, eating at Bonello's, pinning on corsages at Mrs. Walker's house, standing in the concession stand, the rain, our heels sinking into the mud, no band playing "Ice Castles", hugs and tears, closeness and friendship, an everlasting memory.

"To hold the title of Homecoming Queen is a very special honor to me. It reflects the warmth and security that I feel from Leechburg High School. The closeness of our school gives it a very unique quality that not many other high schools can claim. For this reason, I deeply value my memories of high school, and being chosen Homecoming Queen is the highlight of them all. I feel very honored to have been chosen by my fellow classmates as Queen, and would like to thank them all for making this special event possible"
 . . Ann Vogel, 1982 Homecoming Queen

Epilogue

Your tour of Castle Leechburg is now completed. Hopefully you have enjoyed your stay, and will return again someday to this fair citadel. His Majesty, King Willian Carroll, and the people of this tiny realm, bid you a fond farewell and a safe journey. You might want to stop by one of the local taverns for a tankard of ale, or a good meal before starting off. But before you leave, be sure to visit the shops of all the local merchants, and take with you an ox-cart or two full of mementos of your stay.

Dh boy where do I begin? You about at Leeds when we went for a walk to see the pond monster and we got stuck under the fence and you yelled "Help mummy-help!" In the time at Long John Silver's and you wouldn't take your coat off! All our walks down to the bridge and wishing you to take a walk to the top of the hill to see the blue man. In when we slept in the front porch or in the garage. In never forget on Halloween and that gang-I wonder what would have happened
if we would have gone down there. Remember all our pygmy parties? 1/2 4 guys the pygmas here on Lair, here they are! Remember Dave (red hair) on at my party. (ice battles you dumping water all over and I did it to you also! Remember Twister-we dimped
water down Kathy's pants.
Oh and don't forget pull Dave's nose about 2 dozen times.
And who could forget miniature golfing and
"my Tutor" all our fun silk practices (even though you had more) Remember all the star wars movies and that yet to come! Remember the tractor pull- that ice cube and Stacy! X/a X/a Dh
and Dennis and Norman,

Jari,

to a person that I ^{will} always remember, because of all the good times we have had, I never forget the time we went to Bonellos with Kathy & she was practically dancing with her piggies
Remember the time I dropped my retainer in the Micky-D's garbage can? That was funny! Remember the time when we went to Bonellos & I dropped my retainer on the floor & we made fun of those people across from us!!! Don't ever forget all times we sat in the sun in Band Camp & ate lunch! We will have to do it again this year! Oh and one more thing "LIPS", I will never forget when we went to the midnight movies!!! Next time we will bring "H₂O"! Good luck with life (if you can make out of school)

Lori,

To a real cool friend of mine who always knows how to make my day complete remember all the good times we had, the time when we all went down town after school to Margies you sitting there playing video games Remember our Art Club Trip staying in the same room, and all of us getting mad at each other, filling ourselves up with pizza coming home Sunday night no one talking to each other. Our hilarious Health classes with Lori all of us picking on Lisa Murray for us. We had some great times then up it all and I am so glad I picked a person like you to enjoy it with. You are a real special friend I guess you could say your just about the best friend any one could have considering we've been through the bad and the good and we made it through it all. So I want you to know your the best and I am glad I have ya as a friend Good Luck in all you do + Best Wishes Always.
